

The first single resource to integrate both functional and aesthetic nasal surgery

Essentials of Septorhinoplasty

Plastic surgery and otolaryngology have evolved along largely separate lines over the last decades. This is the first book that deals with the dual character of complex nasal surgery, integrating both the functional and aesthetic aspects of septorhinoplasty.

Edited by H. Behrbohm and M. E. Tardy, Jr., and with internationally recognized experts contributing individual chapters, this work starts with the basics—anatomy, physiology, pathophysiology—and moves on to preoperative diagnosis, operative strategies, approaches and techniques, anesthesia, and follow-up treatment.

Key points:

- First book that integrates both the aesthetic and functional aspects of complex nasal surgery
- Step-by-step description of operative techniques by internationally famous experts
- Before and after illustrations to help plan procedures
- Exquisite illustrations make the concepts easy to understand

You will find essential information on the preoperative workup, surgical anatomy and analysis, endoscopic sinus surgery, dynamics of rhinoplasty, endonasal and open-tip approaches and techniques, details of nasal tip sculpture, management of nasal trauma, the before-and-after psychology in rhinoplasty patients, and much more!

All otolaryngologists and facial plastic surgeons will benefit from the experience and insights of these renowned experts.

Hans Behrbohm, MD, is Professor and Chairman of the Department of Otolaryngology, Neck and Facial Plastic Surgery at Park Hospital Weissensee, an academic teaching hospital of the Humboldt University, Charité, Berlin, Germany. He teaches nasal and sinus surgery with the Humboldt University medical faculty, and is well known as a pioneer of integrated aesthetic and functional nasal surgery techniques.

M. Eugene Tardy, Jr., MD, FACS, is Professor of Clinical Otolaryngology, Head and Neck Surgery, Division of Facial Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery at the University of Illinois Medical Center in Chicago, Illinois, USA. His name is synonymous with world-class rhinoplasty excellence and skill. His masterful surgical demonstrations, captivating lectures, and publications have benefited surgeons worldwide.

ISBN 3-13-131911-9 (GTV)
ISBN 1-58890-208-0 (TNY)

www.thieme.com

Behrbohm/Tardy

Essentials of Septorhinoplasty

Essentials of Septorhinoplasty

Philosophy—Approaches—Techniques

Hans Behrbohm
M. Eugene Tardy, Jr.

 Thieme